

Claire Lin

Junior Software Engineer

I have recently shifted my career paths from art investments and the crypto field to becoming a full-stack developer. I am detail-oriented, passionate about coding, and not afraid of challenges. My work and passion focus on building user-friendly web applications with sophisticated design, being a creative problem solver, as well as learning new skills about the industry. I am looking forward to building valuable projects with a team that I can learn alongside and share with.
